

OUR COMPANY VALUES

It's more than cupcakes

We like a cupcake now and then, but our most valuable rewards are the trust and autonomy we're given in our working lives. Treats are a symbolic taste of the generous culture and shared sense of purpose we celebrate at Solopress.

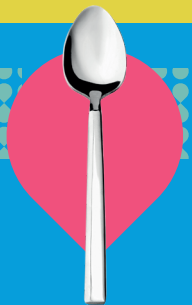

We're the sidekick

Each customer is the hero of their own print story. With every job, we play a supporting role in that story. Let's be the faithful print partner who always comes up with the goods and helps make their mission a success.

We rinse our spoons

From the little things to the big things, we show care and respect for others. We're mindful of our impact and leave both the workspace and the jobs that pass through our hands in top shape for those who follow.

Mushy P's

Forgive our sentimentality, but we're all about the P's—pride, passion, positivity and people. We believe in ourselves, each other, our work and our company. We deliver amazing results because we care passionately about our shared goals.

Smile & error

Let's cultivate an enthusiasm to admit and learn from our mistakes, discussing them openly and without fear of judgement. We don't forget to recognise and replicate our victories, but we're also open to lessons from our setbacks.
